DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments and amendments, filed 11/5/2007, with respect to claims 10-25, 27-29, 31, and 32 have been fully considered and are persuasive. The previous 103 rejection (see Office Action 12/5/2006) of the claims has been withdrawn.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 18-25 and 27 are objected to because of the following informalities: In claim 18, lines 5-6, the phrase "the N phases" is suggested to be changed to "N phases". Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

3. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

4. Claim 28 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. Claims 18 recites a computer program product without a computer readable medium. MPEP 2106.01 [R-5], Section I states the following:

Similarly, computer programs claimed as computer listings per se, i.e., the descriptions or expressions of the programs, are not physical “things.” They are neither computer components nor statutory processes, as they are not “acts” being performed. Such claimed computer programs do not define any structural and functional interrelationships between the computer program and other claimed elements of a computer which permit the computer program’s functionality to be realized. In contrast, a claimed computer-readable medium encoded with a computer program is a computer element which defines structural and functional interrelationships between the computer program and the rest of the computer which permit the computer program’s functionality to be realized, and is thus statutory. See Lowry, 32 F.3d at 1583-84, 32 USPQ2d at 1035. Accordingly, it is important to distinguish claims that define descriptive material per se from claims that define statutory inventions.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 10-25, 27, 31, and 32 are allowable over prior art references (if above objections are overcome).
6. Claim 29 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
